ANSIES in abundance may be had by anybody who has ground available. Sow a packet of seed in a shallow box, in fine rich soil made smooth and rather firm by being pressed with a board. Sift a little fine earth over the seed, press with the board again, water gently with tepid water and place the box in a warm window. In three weeks the young plants will appear. A week later they may be transplanted, and soon be put out in the garden. If the season is too far advanced to raise from the seed, plants may be bought from the florists, which if put into rich soil, given plenty of room, light and water, will blossom till frost comes.

GREAT relief is found in Hood's Sarsaparilla by those who suffer from diseases caused by impure blood. The most severe cases of scrofula and scrofulous humor readily yield to Hood's Sarsaparilla when fairly and faithfully taken, and it has accomplished some of the most remarkable cures on record. Salt rheum, with its agonizing itching and burning, blood poisoning and all other humors, boils, pimples, sores, etc., are also cured by this remarkable medicine. Hood's Sarsaparilla has by its many victories over disease won the title of "the greatest blood purifier ever discovered." It is as far ahead of "old-time" remedies as modern invention is ahead of the slow plodding of our fathers.

Who Said
Hood's Sarsaparilla?

CURATIVE Power Peculiar to Itself is possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla, as is conclusively shown by the wonderful cures it has effected, unsurpassed in the history of medicine. This merit it possesses by reason of the fact that it is prepared by a Combination, Proportion and Process Peculiar to Hood's Sarsaparilla, known to no other medicine, and by which the full medicinal power of all the ingredients used is retained. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a highly concentrated extract of Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Mandrake, Dock, Juniper Berries, and other well known vegetable remedies, all carefully selected and closely watched in every step of the process of manufacture.

Hood's Sarsaparilla may be relied upon as the most effective blood medicine. It is prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

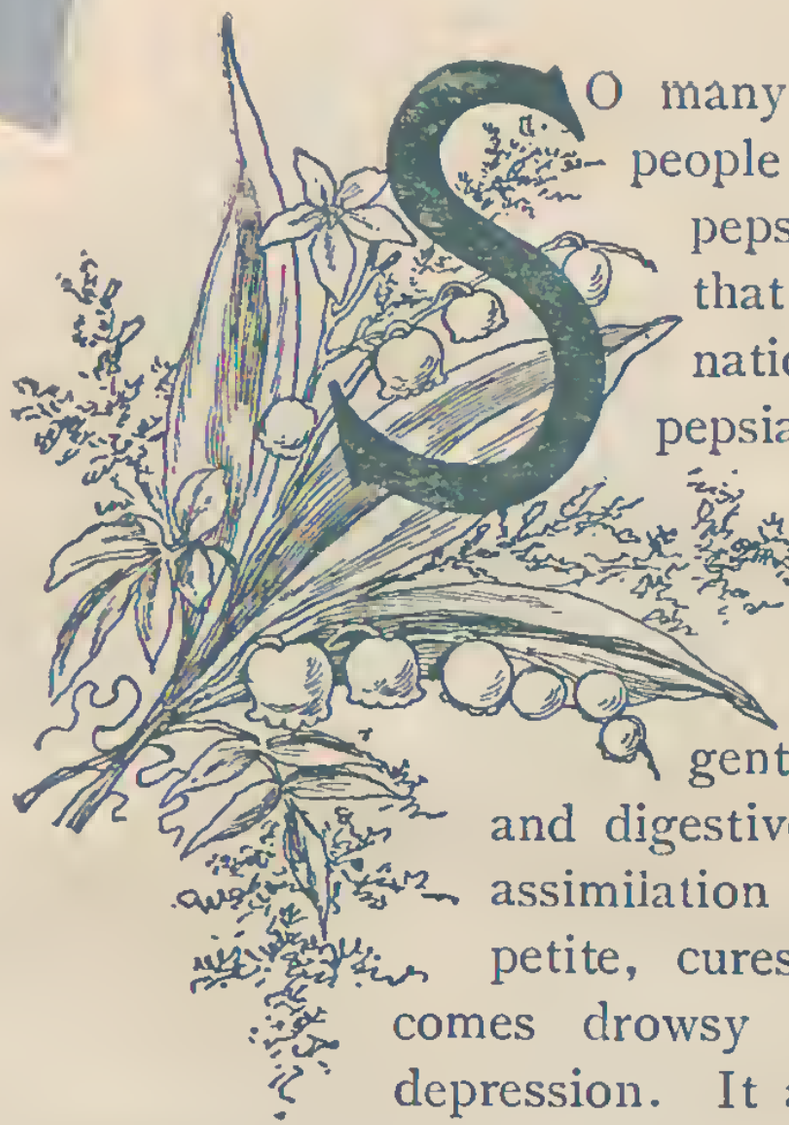

Hood's
Sarsaparilla
Makes the Weak Strong

THAT tired feeling, so prevalent at this season, is overcome by Hood's Sarsaparilla which gives a feeling of strength and confidence in one's self which is comforting and satisfying. Hood's Sarsaparilla does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength from which there must follow a reaction of greater weakness than before, but possessing just those elements which the system needs and readily seizes, it builds up in a perfectly natural way, all the weakened parts, acts upon the blood as purifier and vitalizer, assists to healthy action those important organs, the kidneys and liver, and in truth "makes the weak strong." It is of special value in imparting strength after severe illness when a good tonic is needed.

Two Hoods of style that's rather queer,
Two little maids with naught to fear,
Except that either will rightly guess
What t'other holds behind her dress.

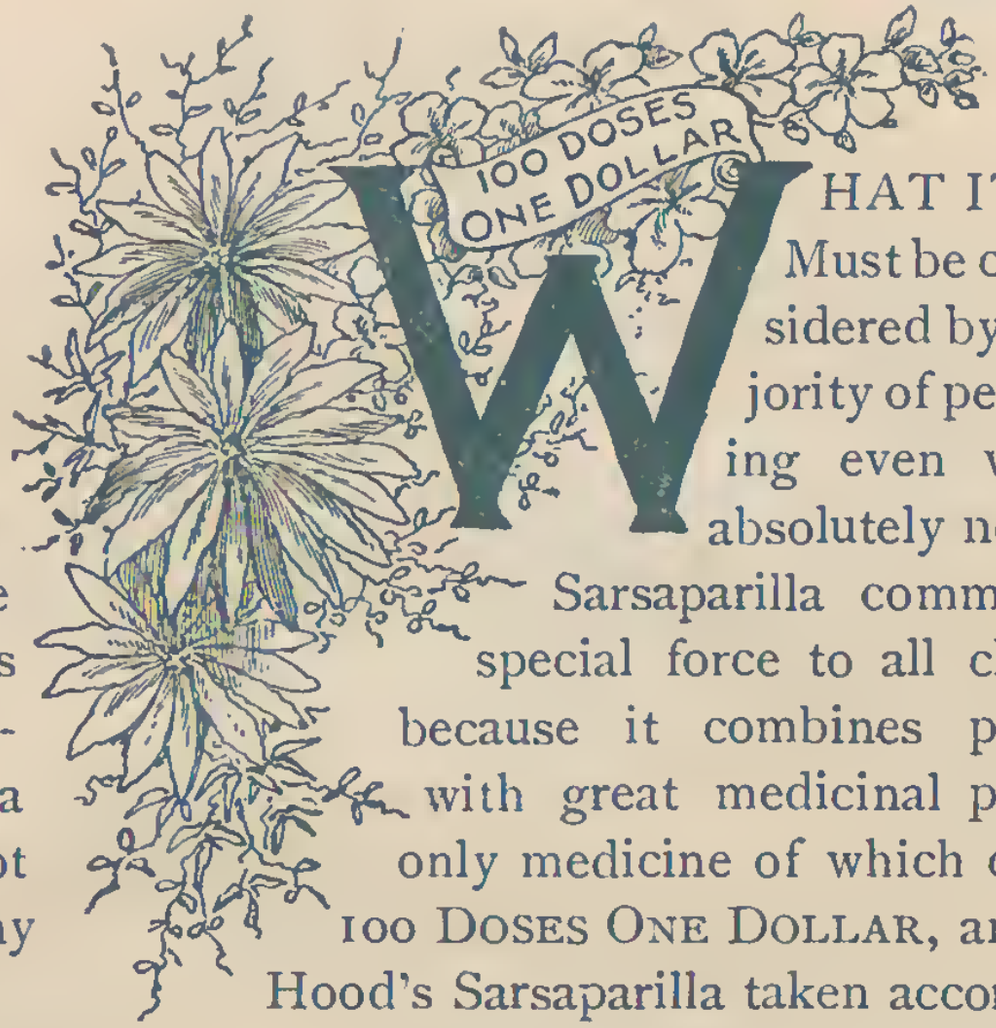

They scan each other's faces fair;
Then, in one voice, they both declare
"Hood's Sarsaparilla! I can tell;
And that's what makes you look so well!"

SO many of our people suffer from dyspepsia in its various forms, that we have been called "a nation of dyspeptics." Dyspepsia does not get well of itself but requires careful attention to diet and the assistance of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which gently but surely tones the stomach and digestive organs, assists in the natural assimilation of food, creates a good appetite, cures sick headache, overcomes drowsy feeling and mental depression. It also acts upon the kidneys and liver, rousing these important organs to healthy action. Now is the time to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is prepared by C. I. Hood & Co.,

Two Points

FIRST. This little book gives limited opportunity to tell you what Hood's Sarsaparilla is and what it has done, but to any readers who would like further information we shall be pleased to write or send other books containing statements of cures, from reliable persons.

SECOND. If you decide, from what you have heard or read about Hood's Sarsaparilla, that you would like to try this medicine, do not be induced to purchase anything else instead. Efforts to sell other preparations when Hood's Sarsaparilla is called for are prompted by the larger profit which will be made on the substitute. Such efforts are not honorable and ought to be discouraged by all who are willing to see a business rely for success upon its own merits. Therefore we ask only what is fair when we say, If you call for Hood's Sarsaparilla, insist upon having it.
